Professor Naubahar Sharif is an associate professor in the Division of Social Science at HKUST. He earned his Bachelor’s and Master’s degrees from HKUST before obtaining his (second) Master’s and PhD degrees in ‘science and technology studies’ from Cornell University. He has been at HKUST since the 2005 completion of his PhD and has been active in teaching-related initiatives at HKUST, including participation in the ‘Hong Kong Virtual University’ project (from 2008–2012). He is a winner of the School of Humanities and Social Sciences ‘Best Teacher Award’ (2008) and has been a shortlisted candidate for the university-wide Michael Gale Award for Distinguished Teaching. When HKUST decided to adopt the ‘Coursera’ platform in the Fall of 2012, the provost’s office selected Professor Sharif to deliver HKUST’s first Coursera course, which he is currently in the process of preparing.
